

ANDY REUTIMAN

SENIOR SYSTEM
STRATEGY ANALYST |
HSHS

WHAT IS THE BEST PIECE OF ADVICE YOU HAVE EVER RECEIVED?

Data is important because data helps drive insights and insights drive the actions taken by an organization.

BOOK RECOMMENDATION

Accelerate: Building Strategic Agility for a Faster Moving World by John Kotter and The Burnout Fix by Jacinta Jimenez

IF YOU HAD TO EAT ONE MEAL EVERY DAY FOR THE REST OF YOUR LIFE, WHAT WOULD IT BE?

Pizza and chocolate milk (I know that is probably the same response as elementary students but I'm okay with that)

MAHEF

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Andy Reutiman is a Senior System Strategy Analyst at HSHS and has been a member of MAHEF for 2.5 years. He enjoys helping provide information and data that is used to make important System decisions that affect his entire organization. Although Andy is "just an analyst," reporting to the Chief Strategy Officer allows him to see the day to day of the executive leaders within our organization.

Andy helps partner with the Finance department to develop business plans that effectively allocate capital dollars and create volume budget projections. Other key responsibilities include providing data for merger and acquisition requests, developing board presentations that show current and future projections, and redevelop the entire System 5-year Strategic Plan.

There were several reasons Andy joined MAHEF. When starting at HSHS, he was new to healthcare and quickly realized the complexity of the field. Joining MAHEF provided a better understanding of healthcare practices from other health systems and facilities while also networking with healthcare executives.

When asked what Andy loves most about healthcare, he stated, "I love that I can help make a positive impact on patients' care even though I am not on the clinical side and sit behind a desk."

For young careerists, Andy advises to get involved with different organizations and committees. It will not only help you learn but you will be surprised by how differently and sometimes more effectively there are ways of doing things you never thought about. Never stop learning and developing your skill set.

Andy attended University of Illinois - Springfield where he earned a Bachelor of Business Administration degree and a Master's of Management Information Systems.
